Dear Friends and Neighbors,

This Fall Newsletter signifies that fall is approaching and with this beautiful season comes a colorful display of trees with various shades of yellow, orange and red. By far this is my favorite season of the year! It signifies cool, crisp, and dry weather with a colorful display of nature's beauty. It is also a time for college and high school football for many of us to enjoy! None of this beauty would be possible without trees! Trees give off oxygen and reduce the effects of global warming. Trees are a priority in my mind and that is why I am proud of the fact that the National Arbor Day Foundation has declared Warren a "Tree City USA" city because of our efforts to preserve our trees and environment. We do so not only because it is right, but also because it improves the quality of life of everyone and every living thing in our community. Enjoy this fall and go blue or go green!

This year we started a big project aimed at protecting pollinators like bees and butterflies whose populations have been dramatically declining due to encroachment of development and overuse of pesticides. We have created bee refuges by placing hives at the Warren Police Station, Fire Station #6, the Warren Community Center, and Civic Center South. Bees improve the ecosystem by pollinating plants, beautifying parks and gardens, and promoting fruiting and seed production. Our butterfly refuges are in the planning stages and our hope is to have them in place by next year. So, get ready to see more bees and butterflies helping to beautify our community.

We are very careful at the city not to kill pollinators through the overuse of pesticides. We do use mosquito briquettes in our catch basins, but those only attack mosquito larvae and not other insects. We ask you to be careful when using pesticides in your yard. The mass use of sprays not only kill mosquitos, but all other insects as well including those we need in our community. You can protect against mosquitos by ensuring you don't have standing water in your yard and other protections. Let's all do our part to keep our Warren community safe and beautiful!

I also recently signed a $1.7 million emergency purchase order to clean up our parks. I've been waiting for the city council to act on my request for funding, but the situation has deteriorated to a point such that I had to take action. This money will allow us to take action to clean up landscaping including removing weeds, making certain all play structures are safe for our children, and our bathrooms are operational and clean.

Our parks are a treasure for our community and they improve the quality of life for every Warren resident. I've had my plan before council since they took office in 2019, but since they haven't yet taken action, I believed we had no choice because it's my duty to protect and serve our residents. I'm hopeful that this emergency action will prompt the council to expand upon these efforts so we can protect our parks which are jewels in the crown of Warren.

I want to close this message on a positive note by honoring an incredible young man in our community, Dylan Soucy. In front of his home Dylan stocks his "Blessing Boxes" where people in need can find food, toiletries, pet supplies and books. While only 16 years old, Dylan understands that inflation has so negatively impacted so many families and he wants to help.

I've spoken with Dylan and am inspired by the caring heart of this intelligent young man. That's why we at the city are looking to help Dylan stock his blessing boxes. People who want to help by contributing can goods, toiletries, pet food, books, and school supplies can drop them off at the Mayor's Office at Warren City Hall during business hours through the end of September. We will then deliver the supplies to Dylan so he can continue to provide access to his neighbors in need.

Dylan Soucy's selfless and kind actions should remind everyone of the blessings that come to each of us when we do a little extra to help those in need in our community. Thank you, Dylan, for being a shining example of what each of us should strive to become. Well done.

I hope each of you has had a wonderful summer and are now ready to turn your focus back to school and outdoor activities including cider mills, football games and the sheer joy of a festive fall season!

Sincerely,

DIA INSIDE OUT

From now through late November residents of Warren can enjoy reproductions of classic paintings that have been installed by the Detroit Institute of Arts in 10 locations around the city. To celebrate, the Warren Public Library has created a puzzle for patrons to solve. Visit each site, read the description of the art, answer the questions on the puzzle sheet, unscramble the letters to reveal a secret phrase, and turn in to a Warren Library location to be entered in a drawing to win an Amazon gift card. Puzzle sheets and a map of art locations can be found at warrenlibrary.net.
